this book discusses the phenomenon of regional integration in africa and the ensuing discourse on the intercontinental free trade agreement within the continent long before the move for the facilitation of free trade in africa freedom of movement by africans within africa backed up by the au protocol on free movement of persons has been in existence and in one way or the other both moves are closely related the book explores the existing relationships between the ecowas protocol on free movement goods and services and afcfta on one hand and the impact of the implementation and non implementation of these policies on west africa on the other hand while it could be arguably stated that west africa has achieved remarkable and sustainable progress in the areas of democratic governance and economic growth the sub region over the past few years has been challenged by terrorism and other transnational security threats innocent civilians are continuously killed security operatives and providers of humanitarian assistance targeted properties and infrastructure wantonly destroyed thus culminating in significant displacement of people and acute poverty if these developments are not carefully and timeously addressed they are capable of eroding progress so far recorded it is against this background that this thesis undertakes a study of the different manifestations of terrorism and related transnational security challenges in west africa to explore the internal and external sources and drivers of instability establish the linkages between terrorism and transnational threats examine the various steps taken in recent time to strengthen the sub regions capacity to prevent and address the menace of terrorism and other security challenges and make necessary policy recommendations based on comprehensive best practices
